

Health Care Facilities that Participated in the 2011 Buy Local Challenge

Thanks to the following facilities that reported their local sourcing activities from this year's Buy Local Challenge. If your institution did not participate, or if you are purchasing local products but did not report your purchases as part of the MD H2E campaign, please consider participating next year. The goal of the Buy Local Challenge is to raise awareness and to demonstrate that local sustainable foods can be incorporated and yield incredible benefits in institutional foodservice with just a little bit of effort.
